Michigan Saves is part of a team implementing BetterBuildings for Michigan, a federally funded program to perform intensive energy efficiency drives in specific neighborhoods around the state.

BetterBuildings for Michigan provides incentives, financing, and targeted outreach to improve the energy efficiency of homes in a total of 27 neighborhoods located in Grand Rapids, Detroit, the southeast Michigan suburbs, and other communities around the state. This program offers a combination of rebates and financing and will target 11,340 homes in addition to 131 commercial and institutional buildings.

The Michigan Saves Home Energy Loan Program is a key feature of the package of services being offered to homeowners through this initiative.
