

Just Speak Incorporated has been a supporter of our organization, Childhelp for many years. They have raised funds for children in foster care that resulted in coats being purchased. They work with various communities to bring awareness about child abuse, neglect and domestic violence. They truly have a passion to share their experiences in hopes of helping others. We are blessed to have them in our community; working to make this a better place for children and families.

-Ann Marie Lesniak, formerly of Childhelp Michigan

I've been blessed to witness firsthand the work of Just Speak Incorporated. Brittnei Kellom has a powerful story of overcoming that needs to be heard worldwide.

-J. Marsh

I commend Brittnei Kellom...she is truly a Survivor, a Survivor of rape and incest from a tender age. Brittnei you are truly an inspiration to all victims and a voice to be heard. Please do not ever stop speaking out sharing your story, your survival, your steps toward emotional and mental freedom. May God wrap you in His loving embrace as He protects and guides you on your journey. Take care and STAY SAFE!

-Anny Jacoby, A Survivor Project Safe Girls

...Brittnei's courage translates into a passion of increasing intolerance of child sexual abuse -- the platform of Just Speak.

-J. Ford

I did not know anything about sexual abuse in children ... then I met Brittnei the wonderful young woman behind the reason for the organization and was impressed with her tenacity and courage...Just Speak, Inc. is an organization that you can help through volunteering, supporting, and donating monetarily.

O. Henry

I am an emergency physician for the past 30 years and I have been a board member on multiple volunteer boards, nationwide, that help victims of violence... As a result, I have been very involved with Brittnei Kellom and the fantastic dedication and work she has been doing to help children speak up against abuse. Her personal story is what makes this organization so successful, because Brittnei has a passion to help those who can't help themselves.

C. Shelby-Lane, MD

JUST SPEAK, INC.

Ms. Brittnei Kellom

Executive Director

Speaker

Activist

Advocate

Twitter: @JustSpeakINC

Facebook: Just Speak Incorporated

Phone: 313-355-3035

Email: justspeak@justspeak.org

Visit our website: www.justspeak.org

FACTS ABOUT
MS. KELLOM

Brittni Kellom enjoyed a happy childhood, playing with friends, excelling in school, winning a scholarship to NASA Space Camp, graduating from a prestigious private school, where she lettered in track, was on the deans list and honor roll and was also on the tennis team.

At the tender age of 11, Brittni was sexually and emotionally abused by her biological father for 4 years.

The emotional impact of this experience has changed the trajectory of Brittni’s life from compassionate scholar to passionate activist and youth advocate.

As a young adult Brittni is committed to speaking from the perspective of a survivor to encourage understanding and respect for the emotional, psychological, academic, legal and medical needs of survivors throughout their journey.

Speaker | Activist | Child Advocate

Brittni is the 1st recipient of University of Michigan’s Black Business Undergraduate Society Scholarship ; a recipient of the City of Detroit’s Distinguished Service

Award, and Just Speak is the recipient of the 2013 Playworks

Game Changer Award in the category of Respect. She currently works with abused children in a residential environment.

She is a community activist and a child advocate. She is the Founder and CEO of Just Speak, Inc., an advocacy organization that supports victims of sexual assault, child abuse and neglect. She is the founder of OutLOUD™, a sexual assault awareness and trauma program.

Brittni Kellom

“As a survivor, it is my charge to facilitate awareness about the scarring problem of child sexual abuse. From ages 5 to 19, I encourage peer to peer education, running workshops on appropriate touch, intimate partner violence, the healing process, legal options, and self-reflection. I am an advocate for those that begin to tell their story but more importantly I, along with the volunteers of Just Speak, Inc., are the voice and physical expression of a quiet survivor's courage. We: Silence the Pain. “

Just Speak Mascot

Brittni enjoys her role as a community advocate and achieves it in a myriad of ways. She can be found speaking, running workshops, painting faces, drawing, playing games, reading, and training. “While the method has importance, the message must get to those in need. I do what it takes, and I go where I am needed to make a difference.”

Powerful | Articulate | Engaging | Knowledgeable

OutLOUD • Teen Dating Violence • Training • College Forums

“Your Silence Will Not Protect You” -Audre Lorde

MEDIA PERSONALITY

Brittni’s tenacity and energy are only paralleled by her strength and passion for serving as the voice of the silent survivor.

Audiences respond with standing ovation or with stunned silence, as she presents her story. Not deterred by their feelings of helplessness, Ms. Kellom engages her audiences with thought provoking questions based on the harsh realities and hard facts of abuse.

Brittni Kellom’s presence and presentation is perfect for the media including radio and television and she is an inspiring and engaging speaker for any event.

TOPICAL CAPABILITIES

Brittni’s compassion and understanding of the dynamics of child abuse make interviews easy, educational and engaging. Her experience makes her opinion comparable to experts in the field. Ms. Kellom has served as, and is an excellent panelist, speaker and workshop facilitator. Invite her to discuss:

- Child abuse and safety.
- Prevention and Awareness
- Self-efficacy for adolescents.
- Getting Involved.

Or Facilitate OutLOUD

- Sexual assault
- Trauma
- Teen Dating Violence
- Sexuality